

Medio: the sub-studio design blog
Fecha de publicación: 23/12/08

Sección: Design
Título: Dominique Besanson

the sub-studio
design blog

Dominique Besanson

Dominique Besanson makes these gorgeous hand-knit accessories with discarded materials from the textile industry. I love her unusual knitting techniques (especially the hand-braided pieces). Because Dominique limits the amount of time she spends on each piece, the accessories are actually quite affordable - $15 for the necklaces, $70 for each quilt (not shown here). Her etsy shop isn't set up yet, but she will hopefully soon be making her work available for purchase here. Until then, you can contact Dominique through her website.